Teledermatology Spot Check Disclaimer

I understand that virtual dermatology visits (teledermatology) are limited to the evaluation of visible skin, hair, or nail concerns through photos or video.

- A Virtual Skin Spot Check is focused on one or a few specific lesions of concern.
- This service does not replace an in-person full body skin exam.
- Certain conditions, including possible skin cancers, require in-person evaluation, dermoscopy, or biopsy to confirm a diagnosis.
- If the provider determines that my condition cannot be fully evaluated virtually, I may be referred for an in-person examination or procedure.
- I agree that I have been informed of these limitations and consent to proceed with teledermatology under these terms.
- Emergency situations, suspicious moles or surgical evaluations require in-person care. Suspicious rashes indicating a systemic disease would need to be referred to a board-certified dermatologist.
